BOSCH

Invented for life

Bosch Packaging Academy

Equipment effectiveness is not just about the machine; it's also about the employee. With the Bosch Packaging Academy, you get the most out of your Bosch equipment. The Academy offers a united platform for the entire machinery portfolio of Bosch Packaging Technology worldwide.

The Benefits

- ▶ As an experienced manufacturer of packaging systems, we have consolidated our knowledge and can provide you with customized trainings for your specific requirements.
- ▶ The Academy brings together training sessions for the entire machinery portfolio of product brands under one roof. Finding the best training solution has never been so easy.
- ▶ Being close to the customer is a central philosophy of Bosch Packaging Technology. Our competence centers enable world-wide support, and our country academies offer locally performed trainings in local languages, to support customers at first hand.
- ▶ Do you prefer practical, theoretical classroom or multimedia training? Perhaps a combination of all methods? We offer a vast range of learning techniques, helping you to get the most out of the training we have to offer.
- ▶ The education level of our trainers is globally standardized, guaranteeing in-depth technical and informational teaching at a high standard.
- ▶ Bosch training certificates are well-recognized in the market and will prove that your employees have been sufficiently trained by a professional entity.

Training Modules

The Academy offers three different types of training for all Bosch Packaging Technology machinery. These types of training consist of different modules which are composed individually for your needs:

Essential training:

Learn how to safely and correctly operate and maintain your Bosch system.

Advanced training:

With our technical advanced trainings you achieve higher productivity, enhanced quality, more stable processes and a more detailed understanding of your Bosch equipment.

Specific training:

Expand your knowledge about selected technologies and processes.

Are you interested in more individual training? We are happy to come up with a personalized solution for you. For more information about the training modules, please contact us on www.boschpackaging.com
